

Four-Power Envoys Resume Conferences

Allies Meet Molotov After 15-Day Lapse

Moscow, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The envoys of Britain, the United States and France resumed their conferences with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov after a 15-day lapse today. The western powers were trying to bring the Berlin talks to a definite conclusion.

After a meeting of an hour and a half—the shortest of all the 10 Kremlin conferences—the envoys went back to the British embassy smiling but more non-committal than ever.

Smith Non-Committal
British and American correspondents asked U.S. ambassador Walter B. Smith what he had to say.

"We met Mr. Molotov and Mr. Smirnov. No comment," replied Smith. (Andrei A. Smirnov is an aide to Molotov.)

Asked if there would be any more meetings, Smith repeated, "no comment."

Smith, Frank Roberts, special British envoy, and Yves Chataignier, French ambassador, went to the Kremlin at 6 p.m. from the American embassy, and returned to the British embassy at 9:30.

First Talk Since August
It was their first talk with Molotov since Aug. 30 when they reached an agreement in principle on establishing a single Soviet-sponsored mark as the currency for Berlin and passed to the four military governors of Germany in Berlin the work on details.

The four military governors conferred seven times and then reported to their governments without announcing any agreement.

Today's meeting came two days after the arrival of Francois Seydoux, advisor to the French military governor, who brought full reports from the Berlin talks.

War Not Imminent: Clay
Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today he does not believe "war is just around the corner" because of the Berlin crisis.

In a statement to a group of visiting American newspapermen, the U. S. military governor predicted the United States will adopt "all other means at its disposal" before seeking a forceful showdown over the 82-day-old Soviet blockade of the German capital.

He said he doubts that the Russians "will make Berlin the final issue on the entire German problem."

Asked whether Britain and the United States plan to "keep up the air lift forever" if negotiations break down, Clay said that decision will have to be made by the governments involved.

If the blockade remains through the winter, he said "we may not be as warm as in the past," but the hardships will not be as great as Berliners experienced two or three years ago.

Continue Hearing On Increase Of Railroad Fares
Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Illinois Commerce Commission today continued to Oct. 13 a hearing on a petition of the Chicago and North Western railroad for a temporary increase of 10 per cent in suburban fares.

The commission said it wanted more time to study the case and to allow Chicago and other cities an opportunity to offer a rebuttal to the increase.

The North Western line has been seeking a 30 per cent boost in fares for its suburban service since June last year. Last May the commission granted a 20 per cent increase. The rail line claims an annual loss of more than $2,000,000 even with the increase. It contends it also needs the additional 10 per cent boost.

John E. Baker, Lake Forest city attorney, and William H. Chambers, attorney for suburban Wilmette, today said they wanted more time to prepare arguments in behalf of their residents.

Man Suffocates In Chicago Movie
Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—One man was suffocated and two others were overcome tonight when an air conditioning unit burst in the Century theater at 2228 N. Clark St.

Clouds of carbon dioxide gas poured from the cooling system but were confined to the basement. Several hundred persons watching a movie in the theater proper were unaware of the accident.

The dead man was Pearson Bender, 42, of 1619 Morse Ave., the theater engineer. Police said the air conditioning unit burst while he was attempting to repair it.

Indian Troops Move Deeper In Hyderabad

New Delhi, India, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Indian troops racing into Hyderabad from the west today captured Rajaur, a half way point on the invasion route 85 miles from the capital of the princely state.

This was announced by the Indian defense ministry, which reported also the fall of Suriapet, a road town lying 78 miles from Hyderabad city on the east.

Indian southern command headquarters said it expected the converging Indian forces moving from the Rajaur area in the west and the Suriapet area in the east to effect a junction in six days. It said the columns now were about 150 miles apart.

The Hyderabad radio, in a broadcast heard in Karachi, said one Indian bomber made several flights over the city of Hyderabad. Air raids sirens were sounded but no bombs were dropped, the broadcast said.

The United Nations security council announced in Paris that it would meet at 3 p.m. Thursday to consider Hyderabad's request for U.N. intervention to stop the march of Indian troops. The request was made on the eve of Monday's invasion.

A communique of the Hyderabad defense ministry issued in Pakistan said the Indian troops suffered 1,000 casualties on the first day of the invasion. It reported that at least one village had been retaken and said that the deepest penetration of Hyderabad at any point was only 10 miles.

The Hyderabad radio heard in Karachi said late tonight Indian troops were pressing hard on the northern and western sectors but advances were being checked. Hyderabad troops destroyed one Indian tank and several armored cars, the radio said, and recaptured one village on the south. Indian rocket firing fighter planes were strafing roads and bridges in Hyderabad.

The Indian defense ministry reported also the capture of the important rail town of Jalna after a 70-mile thrust into Hyderabad on the northwest. Jalna is 250 miles from Hyderabad city and its twin garrison town of Secunderabad—chief goals of the invading forces.

Scientists Fear Earth Becoming Overpopulated
Washington, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Warnings that the earth is becoming so crowded and exploited that freedom from want is "changing from a hope to a pipedream" were sounded today by scientists.

"The virtue of large families has become obsolete" and sooner or later there must be a limitation on world population, said Dr. G. Brock Chisholm. He is head of the world health organization of the United Nations and former Canadian deputy minister of health.

Dr. Chisholm is here for the 100th meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He told a news conference that the human race is obviously increasing beyond the capacity of earth, water and air to sustain it.

In an address prepared for the association, Dr. Fairfield Osborn, president of the New York Zoological Society, said that within three centuries the population had increased from 400 million to more than two billion. There may be three billion or more by the end of this century.

U.S. Favors Giving Portion Of Libya To Britain
Washington, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The United States favors turning over part of the former Italian colony of Libya to Britain under a United Nations trusteeship, the State Department disclosed today.

The American government's stand on the three former Italian colonies in Africa was made public in a statement.

This policy declaration said the American government recommends turning over Cyrenaica, which is part of Libya, to the British as administrators pending the time when this area can achieve independence.

A final decision on what to do with the other part of Libya, called Tripolitania, should be postponed for one year, the State Department said.

It recommended a similar one-year postponement before deciding how to dispose of Eritrea. But it said the southern section of Eritrea including the Danakil coast and the district of Akkele, Guzale and Seraye should be ceded to Ethiopia to give that country an outlet to the sea.

Wallace Assails Illinois Ruling On Progressives
Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Protected by a special detail of 350 Chicago policemen, Henry A. Wallace declared tonight that final state rulings keeping the Progressive ticket off the Illinois ballot threaten "new bloody Fridays, new bayonets."

(He referred to 1886 Chicago labor riots.)

Wallace returned to the city where he announced his new party presidential candidacy nine months ago to find that the state supreme court an hour earlier had slammed the door on Progressive hopes of getting its state and national tickets on the state ballot.

He assailed the decisions in a speech prepared for delivery (9:45 p.m., C.S.T.) tonight at a party rally at Wrigley Field, home of the Chicago Cubs baseball team. Party leaders expected a crowd of 38,000, paying 60 cents to $240 for admission.

SIXTEEN INJURED WHEN STREETCARS COLLIDE
Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Sixteen persons were injured today in a collision of two northbound streetcars at Clark street and Granville avenue on the north side. Nine of the injured required hospital treatment.

Watch Primary Election Results For GOP Victory

By The Associated Press
Early returns from seven state primary elections were watched closely last (Tuesday) night to see whether Maine's Republican runaway vote Monday is a general trend.

The primaries were held in Minnesota, Colorado, Michigan, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Washington and Vermont.

In Colorado, the Republicans will make a major effort to take the Senate seat now held by Edwin C. Johnson, Democrat. In yesterday's primary Gene Cervi, former Democratic state chairman, was opposed to Johnson. Republicans had lined up against Will F. Nicholson of Denver.

In Minnesota, Senator Joseph Ball sought renomination on the Republican ticket against two opponents. Candidates on the Democratic side were Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis and James H. Shields, a Henry Wallace supporter.

In Michigan, President Truman had injected added interest by putting in a plug for former Rep. Frank Hock, unopposed for the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat now held by Homer Ferguson, Republican who has been active in spy cases. Ferguson won the Republican nomination without a contest yesterday.

ASKS DRAFT OFFICIALS TO DEFER APPRENTICES
Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—A contractors' group will ask Selective Service officials to defer building trades apprentices from the draft during their training periods.

Dwight W. Winkelman of Syracuse, N. Y., president of the Associated General Contractors of America, said the group's directors have voted to make a formal request for such deferments.

Father, Sister Testify Slayer Of Three Insane
Mansfield, Ohio, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The father and sister of Robert Muri Daniels, on trial for his life in a triple slaying, testified today "he acted crazy" after being hit by a truck at the age of 13.

The two, Robert L. Daniels and Mrs. Esther Plack, both of Columbus, were opening witnesses for the defense after the state rested its case.

It appeared, through tactics of the defense and planned for tomorrow's session, that efforts will be made to establish that Daniels was insane at the time the state charges he killed John Niebel, 50, Mansfield reformatory farm superintendent; Mrs. Niebel, 52, and their daughter, Phyllis, 21.

The three-judge court hearing the case refused to admit Daniels' alleged confessions to the testimony on grounds they "did not conform to law." They did not elaborate.

Spy Probers Quiz Nelson, Prefer Contempt Charges
Washington, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Congressional spy investigators quizzed communist spy Nelson today and then voted to bring contempt action against him.

Nelson called the investigators "political pyromaniacs" and refused to answer many of their questions. He told reporters they "were anxious to connect me up with this atom business."

Nelson said he had nothing to do with that.

The contempt action against him took this form:

A subcommittee of three members of the House un-American activities committee unanimously approved a request that the full committee cite Nelson for contempt. Absent members are to be advised by letter. The entire committee is to be asked to vote on contempt proceedings at its first meeting.

When the House is in session, it, too, must vote on a contempt resolution. But during a recess, Speaker Martin has authority to turn a contempt case over to the United States attorney for prosecution.

Many U.S. Solons Marked For Defeat By Labor Union
Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Eight U. S. Senate and 113 House candidates today were marked for defeat by the AFL in the November election.

Joseph Keenan of Chicago, director of labor's League for Political Education, announced the AFL will oppose these Republican senatorial candidates:

Senators Henry Dworshak of Idaho, Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota, C. Wayne Brooks of Illinois, Edward V. Robertson of Wyoming, Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia and George A. Wilson of Iowa; and GOP candidates Patrick Hurley of New Mexico and Ross Ritzley of Oklahoma.

Keenan spoke at the 23rd annual convention of the AFL electrical workers. He did not name the 113 House candidates on the AFL list.

President Tells U.S. Diplomats Abroad Where To Sit At Parties
Washington, Sept. 14.—(AP)—President Truman cleared up a complex international situation today.

He issued an executive order which explained, among other things, how our diplomats abroad should sit at dinner parties.

No, Mr. Truman didn't say, keep your elbows off the table, and for heaven's sake stop gawking your soup.

The president dealt with the toughest kind of etiquette of all, namely, diplomatic etiquette. Who will sit where? Who outranks whom? In what order shall the big shots approach?

Let's have an illustration. Suppose his majesty Maharajahji Tribhubana Bir Bikram Jung Bahadur Shah Bahadur Shumshere Jung (who, as everyone knows, is the king of Nepal) decides to fling a whirling d of a party.

British Government Announces Three Phase Rearmament Program

London, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The British government announced today a three-phase rearmament program to prepare itself and other western European powers against dangers of the present international situation.

The world position "gives cause for anxiety," Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison declared in a surprise statement on defense at the opening of a special 10-day session of parliament.

To meet it, Britain will slow down demobilization of its veteran troops, speed up recruiting for the armed forces, and accelerate improvement of air defense, armor and infantry weapons.

Double Jet Production
Production of jet fighters will be nearly doubled. An air ministry spokesman said Britain will send jets as quickly as possible not only to all of its overseas stations but to whichever of the other four western European pact countries arrange to obtain these fighter types. France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg are in the alliance.

The government said the rate of jet fighter production is secret. Morrison, announcing that foreign secretary Bevin would review the international situation next week, did not elaborate on the state of world affairs. But labor peer Lord Kershaw said in the House of Lords: "Fear War Possible."

"The man in the street and one might say the woman in the home already fear that another war is possible."

The emphasis on the defense program overshadowed the purpose for which the special session was called—enactment of a Labor party bill to reduce the veto power of the House of Lords.

This measure, regarded by conservatives as a prelude to nationalization of the iron and steel industry, will be introduced and passed later this week.

The bill, which reduces to one

Truman Rebukes Taft For High Pressuring Union
Washington, Sept. 14.—(AP)—President Truman in a letter made public today, rebuked Senator Taft (R-Ohio) for allegedly trying to pressure National Labor Relations Board officials into cracking down on the International Typographical Union.

"It seems to me that it is entirely improper for any senator, no matter what his politics or his rank in the Senate may be, to attempt to put the heat on one of the executive departments," Mr. Truman said.

The president's comments were in a letter to David P. Findling, associate general counsel of the NLRB. The letter referred to a conference in Taft's office attended by Findling and Winthrop A. Johns, of the NLRB general counsel's staff. The meeting was also attended by representatives of Chicago's daily newspapers, whose printers have been on strike for nearly 10 months.

CIO Strikers, Police Battle At Oil Refinery
San Francisco, Calif., Sept. 14.—(AP)—An angry crowd of 3,000 CIO strikers and strike sympathizers fought a two-hour rock and tear gas battle with police today around a Richmond strike-picketed oil refinery.

When it was over with 12 persons injured and tempers still high, law enforcement officers pondered a request to have the national guard called out. It was the first mass violence of California's 11-day-old oil refinery strike over wages.

More trouble was feared by police tomorrow when AFL maintenance workers again appear to pass through the CIO picket lines at Richmond's Standard Oil Company refinery.

About 300 AFL and independent unionists made it into the plant today by slipping through a rear gate while the riot centered on other cars driven up to the main gate as a decoy.

The 12 injured, all with minor hurts, included two policemen and a state highway patrolman.

Hold Divorcee For Motel Robbery
Sterling, Ill., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Carol McBeth, 38, a Sterling divorcee, was held to the Whiteside county grand jury today on a charge of accessory to a robbery.

Boyd Kimmel, the Whiteside county sheriff, said $10,000 worth of property taken in a robbery at Julius farm, a motel on U.S. Highway 30 near Rock Falls, was found in Mrs. McBeth's home.

She posted $5,000 bonds after a hearing before R. W. E. Mitchell, justice of the peace.

Emery Lounsbury, a friend of Mrs. McBeth, is held in jail awaiting grand jury action on a robbery charge. He was unable to raise $25,000 bond. Kimmel said Lounsbury is on parole from the Illinois penitentiary.

BONUS CHECKS
Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Illinois Service Recognition Board mailed an additional 2,600 bonus checks to World War II veterans yesterday, increasing its disbursements by $899,438.55.

To date, 695,898 veterans have received state bonuses, $44,499 in Cook county and $51,399 downstate. Total bonuses to date aggregate $259,949,160.13.

60 Injured; Most Victims Are Soldiers

Seoul, Wednesday, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The army reported today 40 Americans were killed and nearly 60 injured in a train wreck 75 miles south of this Korean city last night.

The wreck occurred when a passenger train plowed into another train from the rear, about 15 miles north of Taejeon.

Most of those killed and injured were soldiers—members of United States forces occupying South Korea.

Take Dead To Seoul
Twenty of the dead and 16 injured were brought to Seoul this morning.

Two cars of one train were telescoped by the impact. Acetylene torches were required to cut open the coaches to reach some of the dead and injured.

A medical disaster team and salvage workers were rushed to the scene as soon as the accident was reported. However, the seriousness of the wreck did not become known here until the first hospital train arrived in Seoul.

3 Remain in Wreckage
Army physicians said that when the hospital train left the scene, at least three soldiers remained trapped into the twisted wreckage.

The leading train, en route from the southeast port of Pusan (Fusan) was smashed by a train bound from Mokpo to Seoul. Most of the American soldiers were riding in the last two coaches of the lead train.

The army said the Pusan-Seoul train was operating off its regular route because of a washout.

(In Washington, the defense department said it had received no report on the wreck.)

Lemay Pleads Innocent In Check Forgery Charges
Milwaukee, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Edmond H. Lemay, 52, pleaded innocent today to four counts of forging endorsement of checks made out to the school lunch service operated by his missing wife.

Lemay was released under $2,000 bond pending a continuation of his arraignment Sept. 28. He was ordered to remain in Milwaukee. His attorney, Robert Jones, said he would withdraw a circuit court petition seeking Lemay's release on a writ of habeas corpus.

Dist. Atty. William McCauley asked that bond be set at $10,000. He told District Judge Ted Wedemeyer that the state believed the alleged forgeries were "part of a pattern surrounding Mrs. Lemay's disappearance about June 15 and show an attempt by him (Lemay) to cover up."

"If the checks had been uncashed, an inquiry would have been made into the disappearance," said McCauley. "We claim that this was a ruse and that it goes to support the state's contention—though not charged—of suspicion of murder."

Polo Player Freed To Wed Coalfield Sweetheart
West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Polo-playing Francis Hitchcock, 30, was freed today to marry Stephanie Saja, his Pennsylvania coalfield sweetheart, when a circuit judge granted his second wife a final divorce decree.

The issuance of the decree was clouded by the threat of a perjury investigation, but bar officials said they hardly believed any fraud was involved.

Judge C. E. Chillingworth who signed the decree directed State Attorney Murray Sams of Deland, Fla., to learn how Hitchcock obtained a license to marry blond Stephanie before he was legally parted from wife No. 2.

But Flagler County Judge E. W. Johnston, who issued the license, said he didn't consider Hitchcock's application as perjury.

Children's and student fares were not changed. There will be no additional charge for transfers to Chicago Transit authority trolley and buses.

SOVIETS RISK WAR WITH POLICY OF VELVET GLOVE, MAILED FIST

The velvet-glove and mailed-fist approaches to international relations are not new. But both are seldom used at the same time, as the Soviet government is doing now in the contest over Berlin.

The velvet glove has been employed in the Moscow talks on Germany, and in the military governors' meetings in Berlin. Reports of agreement from both conferences hinted at a lifting of the blockade. But just when the end of the wrangle seemed in sight, the Russians put the iron glove on the other hand. They took Berlin's city hall, held citizens of the western nations prisoner there, kidnapped west-sector German policemen, and began harassing "air maneuvers" on a large scale in the western air corridors.

The Berlin blockade was a surprise move which, for all its transparent excuses, was effective for a time. It exploited Russia's geographical advantages in trying to force the western powers out of Berlin or to make them give up the idea of a west German government. But the Soviet leaders learned that the Americans and British were going through with the air lift, so Russia took a new tack.

That tack carried the Soviets over a familiar course. The pattern of "demonstrations" followed by strong-arm stuff was not new. It had been used in all the satellite countries and in Russia itself at the time of the revolution. And it had worked to Russian advantage in the past. Now it remains to be seen how effective it will be in Germany. For Germany offers the Kremlin quite a different problem.

In the Communist conquests since the 1917 revolution the opposition has been physically weak. The mere threat of force was enough, except in Finland's case. Thus the Communists could indulge in such window dressing as calling the opposition criminals and traitors, and purging the opposition's leaders through rigged trials.

In Berlin, however, there are the representatives and troops of three other nations. Their actual physical strength is also meager. Yet these token forces are backed by a potential strength that gives the Russians pause.

Because of that potential strength the Communist opposition in Germany is less timid than it was in the conquered Balkan countries. And certainly the present Russian tactics have done nothing to decrease that opposition. Attempted starvation, kidnappings, beatings and general harassment are scarcely the best methods to win friends and influence people.

In the earlier use of these tactics, the Russians were browbeating frightened populations. Now they are risking war. It is not likely that the Kremlin wants war. The velvet-glove aspect of its policy suggests that. At the same time it will probably bluff and bluster to the life of safety.

The question is where that limit lies. Scuffles and stage-managed riots, complete with armed soldiers, could explode in a manner that the Russian leaders have not planned. They would do well to reflect that World War I was started by one shot from the pistol of an unknown and forgotten man.

R. L. Dumas Recalls Covered Wagon Trip

BY MARI KALER

The fiftieth anniversary of a covered wagon journey into the unknown territory of Oklahoma was marked Tuesday by Russell L. Dumas, 279 Sandusky street.

Mr. Dumas recalls that on the 14th day of September in 1898, his family loaded all their material possessions into three wagons and left their farm near Carlinville, Oklahoma bound.

Forty-five days were spent on the trip, 30 days driving, and 15 days visiting relatives and friends along the way.

The fall of '98 was a wet one, says Mr. Dumas, and the deep mud encountered enroute was a hardship on the horses as well as the family. Two horses were hitched to each of the three wagons and three more horses were brought along, just in case.

Drove Lead Wagon
The lead wagon, driven by Mr. Dumas himself, then 19, served as the "grub box" and feed wagon. The other two wagons were loaded with clothing, furniture and other family necessities.

In the second wagon were Mr. Dumas' older brother and his bride of a few days. The trip served as a honeymoon for them. (The couple observed their golden wedding anniversary on Sept. 11.)

Making the trip besides Mr. Dumas and his older brother were his father, mother, a sister, aged seven, and a brother, 17.

Country Partially Settled
Upon arriving at their destination, the family located about 30 miles east of Guthrie, capital of the Oklahoma territory. Their homestead was close to the Iowa Indian camp and at night the Indian drums could be heard echoing through the hills. The country at that time was only partially settled, "in the stages of growing up," says Mr. Dumas.

During the years that Mr. Dumas lived in Oklahoma, he saw the territory admitted to statehood and begin to develop, commercially and religiously. He witnessed the discovery of oil and the opening of the

Eighty Books Of New Fiction On Library Shelves

In the last three months more than 80 books of new fiction have been purchased by the public library. The popularity of these best-sellers is proven by the fact that the 7-day shelf remains consistently empty.

Among the best of these latest issues are "Woman With A Sword," an historical novel by Hollister, "Melissa," by Taylor Caldwell, and "Lace Curtain," by Allen Berlin.

Two authoritative publications, "The New Dictionary of Psychology," by Philip Lawrence Harriman, and "World Words," by W. Cabell Greet, should prove to be of great value to scholars and laymen alike. The former is a carefully compiled dictionary designed to familiarize the student of psychology with the principal concepts and the technical vocabulary of the science, while the latter introduces the latest, revised edition of Prof. Greet's guide to pronunciation. This volume includes more than 25,000 entries, and has become the standard reference for teachers, librarians, and public speakers.

Miss Esther Conner, children's librarian, is beginning this week to make a series of weekly visits to each of the elementary schools where she will supervise circulation of children's books. These books are provided by the public library, a new collection being dismissed to each school weekly.

The Library Board held its regular monthly meeting at the public library at 4:30 p. m. Monday, with Leo Flood, chairman, presiding.

Plans For Fall Activities At "Y" Near Completion

Bill Clark, program chairman for the Y.M.C.A., announces that plans for the fall recreational program for youths of Jacksonville are nearing completion.

Activities will be made available to all children from six years of age through high school.

Although completion of these plans is contingent upon the election of a new president, which will take place within a few weeks, various forms of amusement have already been organized. Among these will be a mixed chorus group, and clubs in photography, radio, and records for boys. Dancing and dramatic clubs will be of special interest to girls.

Notices of these different meetings will be posted on local school bulletin boards in the very near future, Mr. Clark said.

12 Leading Doctors Complete Study of Rheumatism, Arthritis

In a 48 page booklet, a committee of 12 of the nation's leading doctors have issued a complete report of their study of rheumatism and arthritis, covering a period of many months of medical research. From their findings a formula for the quick relief of rheumatic pain was developed by a well-known pharmacist.

This formula, called Ru-Tel was first tested by physicians, hospitals and clinics and has achieved remarkable results in relieving the pain of rheumatism, arthritis and neuritis. They found that Ru-Tel Tablets are pleasant to take, do not upset the stomach—in most cases give quick, soothing relief, sometimes overnight. Now, these Ru-Tel Tablets are available, without prescription through all drug stores. First bottle must help or your money refunded.

Rosemary Current And Dale W. Dysinger Wed

Groom's Father Receives Vows In Home Rites

With only a few close relatives and friends present, Miss Rosemary Current and Dale Wendell Dysinger recited their wedding vows at 2 o'clock Sunday, September 5, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Current of Peoria.

Dr. Wendell S. Dysinger, the bridegroom's father read the impressive double-ring ceremony as the bride party stood in front of the fireplace decorated as an altar setting for the occasion. Palms and green foliage framed an arrangement of gladioli in the vivid autumn shades used on the candle lighted mantel, and the same deep tints were repeated in the bouquets used through the rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Dysinger

Dove gray taffeta made with graceful fullness swept to the back, and a becoming square neckline, was worn by the bride as she was escorted to the altar by her father. Her corsage was of white bride's roses.

In pleasing contrast was the wine colored crepe dress, slim skirted and accented by a shoulder corsage of white carnations, worn by the bride of honor, Miss Gwen Smyth of Harvard, cousin of the bride. Robert Bradney of Jacksonville served as best man.

Reception Follows Ceremony
During the afternoon about 75 friends greeted the young couple at an informal reception at the Current home before they left on their wedding trip. A design of delicately detailed flowers and leaves trimmed the bride's table, which held a crystal punch bowl and decorative wedding cake.

For traveling the bride changed to a steel gray wool gabardine suit. Her accessories were hat, cobra shoes and matching purse in a harmonizing claret red. After a brief stay at Lake Geneva they will make their home in Iowa City.

The former Miss Current was graduated from Central High school and the University of Iowa in June, where she was affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega social sorority, and was a member of Phi Sigma Iota and Phi Beta Kappa. She will continue her studies for an advanced degree and teach in the French department.

To Continue Education
Mr. Dysinger, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Dysinger of Jacksonville, attended Illinois college, Minnesota and Yale universities. His education was interrupted by three and one-half years in the army as a first lieutenant. He will spend the next two years at the University of Iowa, completing the work for his Ph.D. degree in Industrial Psychology.

Dr. and Mrs. Dysinger, Miss Smyth and Mr. Bradney arrived Saturday and were among the guests at the bridal dinner given at the University club by the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harper Arlingast. Other out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Schillerstrom of Champaign and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hattenhaus of Springfield.

GROUP PLANS SESSION
Group No. 1 of the Woman's Council of the Central Christian church will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. James Robson, leader, will preside.

Lutherans Join In Sunday School Picnic, Program

Arenzville—Members and friends of St. John's and St. Peter's Lutheran churches held their annual Sunday school picnic in the grove at 11 a. m. last Sunday.

Religious services were begun with the singing of a hymn. The Rev. R. E. Aden gave the Scripture lesson, after which Rev. Ernest A. Slottag presented the sermon. "Lord, It Is Good For Us To Be Here." A choir anthem completed the service.

At noon a basket dinner was served with a program following. Vocal numbers were presented by the primary room and two one-act plays, "Dumb as a Door Knob" and "Patient for First Aid Class" were given by the Luther league. The cast of characters in the former included Mrs. George Musch and Mrs. Harry Dufelmeier. The latter play was presented by Mrs. Fred Schuman, Mrs. Oliver Meyer, Mrs. Harold Nardseik, Mrs. Earl Huckman, Mrs. Herman Lovekamp, and Mrs. Inez Dahman.

Ice cream and soda provided refreshments during the afternoon. Winners of the various contests were Marshal Meyer, Joan Nardseik, Mrs. Oliver Meyer, and Charles Hierman. Master Charles Heitbrink was the guest of honor at a birthday celebration held in his home by his mother, Mrs. Alvin Heitbrink, after school last Friday. Lovely refreshments were served.

Those in attendance to honor Charles on his seventh birthday were: Lonnie Clark, Eddie Cox, Raymond Jones, Michael Schnitker, Tommie Noble, Myra Lovekamp, Connie Hobrock, and Garry and Jon Eric Nelson.

Wildcat Eleven Lacks Experience This Year

Winchester — (Special) — To say that Winchester's 1948 grid prospects are not bright would be a mass understatement. That's the opinion of the Wildcats' new mentor, Howard Lester.

The Scott county school is faced with much the same situation as is Jacksonville high school, which furnishes opposition in the opener for Winchester at Jacksonville Friday night. That situation involves a lack of experienced players and a promising aggregation of underclassmen.

Will Be First Test

Coach Lester and his assistant, Russell Wilson, have been hard at work with their green outfit since August 25. As yet they haven't had a chance to test the true results of their labors. Winchester passed up an early opening to allow an additional week of practice.

Just four lettermen return to the Wildcats fold this season. Three of them were regulars on the 1947 eleven which dropped a 13-6 battle to the J.H.S. crew.

Winchester will be out for revenge for licks by the Crimsons in 1946 and 1947. They have a chance to get that revenge, too—Jacksonville high school is also fairly weak. But Coach Lester still isn't making any rash predictions. He's adopting a "wait and see" policy and he's none too encouraging about prospects.

All in all the Wildcats will be light again this year. But they have one really big boy in the forward line. He's Bill Smith, a probable starting guard, who ties the scales at 260 and stands six feet, two inches tall. Smith, a senior, will be playing his first season with the varsity.

Others Small
But, take away Smith, says Lester, and there's not much weight. No other player will push the scale hand to the 170 mark. The ends are small and the line inside won't be much bigger. The backfield, too, will be little and Coach Lester said that the speed needed to make up for a weight deficiency is also lacking.

Winchester has a large squad—so large that the coaches are again scraping the bottom of the equipment barrel. Some 60 players have reported already and more are drifting in each day. Winchester, like other community and consolidated schools, is faced with a transportation problem after practice and some of the candidates aren't getting as much time on the field as the coaches would like. That will all be worked out soon, however.

A promising bunch of younger boys appears on the field each evening. So promising are some of the newer players that Coach Lester has listed them among the top prospects and has indicated that they probably will see action against Jacksonville. The Wildcats will benefit from a consolidation program which sends students from several smaller schools to the Scott county seat.

Probable Starters
Reviewing the Winchester manpower situation:
Ends—Two juniors, Dan Lashmet and Jim Coultas slated for starting assignments. Don Greenwalt, a Manchester boy and a first-year man, also looking good.

Tackles—Pat O'Donnell, a 1947 letterman, senior, who saw some action at center, and Al Hornbeck, another junior, carded as prospective starters. Bud Peterson, a junior, marked as number one sub guard. A Weder, a junior, mentioned as probable starter with Smith. Ken Garrett, a sophomore from Alsey, tabbed as another fine prospect. Doyle, a junior, also highly regarded.

Center—Jack Hamman, 1947 starter, established in this position. Quarterback — Bill Stuart, 1947 starter, back and ready to take charge.

Halfbacks — Two more juniors, Phil Nash and Dan Drummond, being depended upon. Harry Northrup, a junior from Alsey, seen as a player who could probably supply the most help.

Wisdom Moves Back
Fullback—Bon Wisdom, a regular last season at tackle, converted to handle this assignment.
Three freshmen are also coming in for some mention by their coaches. They're Don and Ken Hoots of Alsey and Carl Burns, a Winchester lad. Considerable can be expected of all three within the next few seasons.

There's no denying that Lester has stepped into a tough spot. His club faces a stiff Illinois Valley loop slate after their opener here Friday. Winchester will have two distinct disadvantages Friday night. First, there'll be a home-field advantage for the Crimsons. Second, J.H.S. will have already played one contest while Winchester will be beginning its campaign.

The Wildcats need a victory to get off on the right foot. It'll take an alert and determined Jacksonville outfit to keep them from a decision.

Lasley, Florence Shifted To Line As IC Rehearses

Paul Lasley and George Florence, two former Jacksonville high school gridiron performers, were shifted to guard positions at Illinois college during Tuesday rehearsals. The move was made to bolster the thin forward wall of the Blueboys.

Both Lasley and Florence have had line experience.

The change by Lasley enabled Barney Vilk to get a chance in the first backfield combination of Coach Al Miller. Vilk is retained in the first unit. Miller will have one of the tallest outfits in the conference. Vilk is working with Bob Grove, Joe Hill and Bill Gross.

Bryant Tyre of New Jersey, negro speedster, has left camp, according to Miller. He decided against enrolling in school.

The squad underwent its first scrimmage at the close of Tuesday afternoon's workout. Miller reported that he was not pleased with the mental alertness of his candidates and outlined additional class-room work for them.

Illinois college will spend considerable time in the next two weeks in an effort to develop a good pass chucker. Receivers are looking good, according to Miller.

Paul Rust of Jacksonville is among several more linemen who have reported.

Miller announced Tuesday afternoon that an intrasquad game will be played at 2:15 p. m. (D. S. T.) Friday afternoon at the practice field near the gymnasium. The squad will be divided into Blue and White teams for the fray. High school coaches Bob Kraushaar, Farrell Patterson and Hal Wimberly will officiate. Fans are invited to look on.

The game will determine the starting eleven and will also result in a cut in the squad.

Whitacre Sidelined As Crimsons Drill Here On Tuesday

Some familiar faces were absent as Jacksonville high school went through regular rehearsals Tuesday afternoon.

John Whitacre, regular halfback, was out of uniform with a leg bruise. Coach Bob Kraushaar said it was too early to tell whether Whitacre would be able to play Friday.

Johnny Walker was still out of uniform and probably will not play for two more weeks.

Francis Bunch missed practice and Charles Runkle was unable to participate due to a minor stomach disorder.

Coach Kraushaar worked Andy Peiko at fullback and Tom Mills at halfback with regulars Stan Spotts and Gene Todd.

Ends Richard Gotschall and Fred Lawson continued to play from a tackle position.

Brecheen Shuts Out Phils; Cards Win 8-0

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—The St. Louis Cardinals held grimly to their fast fading pennant hopes tonight as Harry "The Cat" Brecheen pitched over the Philadelphia Phillies. The win enabled St. Louis to edge into fourth place, a half-game ahead of the New York Giants and 5½ games behind the pace setting Boston Braves.

Brecheen won his 17th of the season and seventh shutout as against seven defeats with a three-hit mound chore. The victory marked the most number of games ever won by the little southpaw since he entered the big time. He received sensational support from the peerless Marty Marion at shortstop.

Lefty Ken Heintzelman started on the mound for the Phillies and held the Cardinals to one hit and a single run through the first five innings. The lone tally was manufactured on an error by first baseman Bert Haas and a left field double off the bat of Enos Slaughter. But the roof caved in on Heintzelman in the sixth.

Sain Wins 20th For Braves
Boston, Sept. 14. —(P)—Johnny Sain, righthanded ace of the top-place Boston Braves, entered the National League's inner pitching circle by becoming a 20-game winner, for the third straight season, today with a 10-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

It is the first time the senior circuit has had such a consistent winning flinger since Mort Cooper qualified back in 1944 for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Nats Lose 14th Straight Game, Bow To Detroit Twice

Detroit, Sept. 14.—(P)—The Washington Senators touched bottom today, sinking to their 14th straight defeat by dropping a doubleheader to the Detroit Tigers. Hal Newhouse hurled a 6-hit game winning the opener 2 to 1 in 11 innings and Virgil Trucks tamed the Nats with three hits taking the nightcap 12 to 1.

Newhouse, winning his 17th victory against 11 defeats, yielded two hits in the first two innings and then retired 20 men in a row before Washington scored a run in the ninth to send the opener into over-time. First baseman Paul Campbell's single with nobody out and the bases loaded in the Detroit 11th broke up the game.

THE STORY: Dying in the Indian desert, British secret agent Hilary Shenton feels a desperate need to get back to England and to Nana Parthing, his family home. He doesn't know the house has been let and that dreamy, 17-year-old Sabrina, whom he has never met, has adopted his old room and eagerly awaits his return. Hilary does return to England and to Nana Parthing—after death. He is in his old attic room when Sabrina comes up. She is unaware of his presence but Hilary manages to get through to her in a little and she seems happy. Hilary realizes she is the girl he would have loved if he had lived. When Sabrina learns of Hilary's death, she becomes hysterical. Her aunt seeks to let Hilary's room be locked.

THE next few days Sabrina went about much the same as usual, a little too quiet, had her head under her eyes. The time she had habitually spent in Hilary's room she spent in her own, reading her own books; or sometimes just sitting on her window seat looking down into the garden. At last on a day when loneliness enveloped her like a fog, as night came on she went and sat on the top step of the second flight of stairs, her arms clasped round her knees and her head resting on them. Hilary, imprisoned behind the locked door, heard her coming up the stairs, and guessed how she sat there on the steps, as near to him as she could get, pathetically alone. As the sun went down he heard her being called to dinner, and knew that she went unwillingly, flumping, with reluctant feet. Fuming at his own helplessness to put things right for her, Hilary paced the floor restlessly, while shadows crept, towards the house from the drowsing garden. Long after night fell, engulfing everything in thick darkness, he still walked back and forth. There must be some way to help her, he argued irritably. If I could only get at Pilton—

HE paused in the pantry outside the swing door into the kitchen and listened. No voices. He pushed open the door an inch so that he could see into the lighted kitchen. Mrs. Pilton sat alone with her knitting. Recklessly he pushed the door further open, holding it back with his hand. "Mrs. Pilton," he said uncertainly, "where's the key?" She looked up towards him silently, startled, her dark, secretive face never losing its matter-of-fact calm as she beheld the odd behavior of the swing door. "Give her the key, there's a lamb," he said. Her eyes returned to the needles again, and the small, unburied clicking resumed. "You'd best go away now, Master Hilary," she remarked quietly. "Jennie only went out to get the linen off the bushes."

At first he thought he would try to slip past, but as Aunt Effie's foot touched the bottom step Bella gave tongue hysterically. Caught only a few steps from the bottom, he flattened himself against the wainscoting. "Bella, what is the matter with you? What makes you go off like that? Come along, now, don't be such a silly girl." Aunt Effie went up two or three more steps and paused to look back at the shrieking little dog, whose sharp muzzle was pointed unmistakably at the wainscoting just beside her. Helplessly Aunt Effie stared at the polished wood from ceiling to steps, while Hilary stood motionless and smiling directly in her line of vision. Experimentally then she put out her hand and touched the panning behind him. And as she did so Aunt Effie felt a little queer, as though she had touched something—unaccounted.

With a sudden spasm of panic, she scurried down the steps, scooped up the distraught Bella from the hall floor, and ran into the drawing room and closed the door hard.

That was too bad, thought Hilary, reaching the dark sanctuary of the dining room with relief. I oughtn't to upset Aunt Effie, I'm unpopular enough as it is.

HE went on along the passage and started down the stairs on the way to the kitchen via the lower hall and the dining room. Inevitably as he reached the landing Aunt Effie came into view at the bottom, with Bella in attendance.

He retraced his steps cautiously through the hall and up the stairs. Once more his eyes rested thoughtfully on Sabrina's closed door. No. Not tonight. She mightn't like it, no matter how careful he was. . . . He went on up the second flight of stairs, and passed again without mishap through his own door.

Variation on an Old Theme

A boy with his little dog has always been sure-fire as a popular picture subject, but three-year-old Jimmy Wofford, of Milford, Kans. gives it a new twist. He rides astride Lass, two-year-old Irish wolfhound his parents bought for him while the family was in England.

New Blacktop Surface For W. Independence

Reach Agreement On Loose Asphalt On S. Clay Ave.

A group of property owners residing on South Clay avenue consulted with city officials and construction engineers Tuesday evening and reached an agreement on procedure to be followed in removing the loose asphalt pavement prior to resurfacing the avenue.

Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland, Aldermen Chumley, Weaver, Costello, Kelly and Henderson, District Engineer Ralph Leslie of the state highway department, Casler and Stapleton, consulting engineers, and officials of the Sangamo Construction company formed the group which met with the property owners.

After a thorough investigation of the surface of the old pavement, it was agreed that loose asphalt should be removed, leaving the tight material alone to serve as a base for the new surface.

The loose pieces will be washed down with a fire hose and brushed with stiff brooms. The street will then be examined by Inspector John Cully, who will determine if any of the remaining surface should be removed by hand.

City officials observed that this was the same procedure used on South Church street. It will also be surfaced with the same material, manufactured asphalt, instead of natural Kentucky rock asphalt used on some previous projects.

White Hall, Other Towns To Vote On School Question

White Hall—On Saturday, September 18, the people of the territory known as District No. 3, according to the report of the County survey committee, will vote on the proposition of establishing a community school district. Included in this territory are all or part of the townships of Roodhouse, White Hall, Patterson, Walkerville, Wrights and Athensville.

The main purpose of the proposed unit district, recommended by the Greene county survey committee, is to equalize the educational opportunities of all pupils in all schools. A seven member board of education, chosen from each section of the district, would have to be elected from over the new district, if favorably decided upon.

It is probable that the main high schools and also the larger grade schools would be kept in the present locations with pupils from smaller schools being transferred to those larger locations by bus. In some cases it would be necessary to operate a country school but with better educational advantages.

Voting will take place from 12 noon until 7 o'clock p. m. at the following places: White Hall city hall, Roodhouse city hall, Hillview school building, Patterson school building, Gregor school and New Shiloh school.

The newspapers carry stories nearly every day about the bumper crops and wheat crops the farmers of America brought to market. And about the gigantic harvests of soybeans and corn to be delivered this year.

But there hasn't been much information printed about what agriculture specialists term, "a genuine emergency." They're talking about the scarcity of legume seed. This scarcity has been brought on by a number of reasons, they say, and the prospects get worse instead of better.

Coroner Conducts Inquest In Death Of Brown Farmer

Coroner C. S. Young yesterday conducted an inquiry into the death of Lewis O. Fey, 53 year old Mt. Sterling farmer, who died at 1 p. m. Tuesday at the state hospital. He had been a patient there for two months.

During that time the patient had complained of intense hunger pains, but was unable to take solid nourishment and only a limited amount of liquids.

After a post-mortem report by Dr. Hugh A. McKinley, the jury found the man had died of starvation, the result of an old ulcer in the upper portion of the intestines.

Otto Robson served as foreman of the jury. Other members were Roy Rutherford, Bernadine Lair, Edna Fernandes, Lucy Corbridge and Edna Dingeldein.

Mr. Fey was married, but he had no children. He was a veteran of World War I. The body was removed to the Hufnagel funeral home in Mt. Sterling. Services will be held there Thursday, with burial in the Mt. Sterling cemetery.

'Mining The Gold Dust'

By the Journal Courier farm editor

The newspapers carry stories nearly every day about the bumper crops and wheat crops the farmers of America brought to market. And about the gigantic harvests of soybeans and corn to be delivered this year.

But there hasn't been much information printed about what agriculture specialists term, "a genuine emergency." They're talking about the scarcity of legume seed. This scarcity has been brought on by a number of reasons, they say, and the prospects get worse instead of better.

Scarce And High

Clover seed is scarce and high. Morgan county is considerably better off than its neighbors, especially those areas to the north, but Morgan county farmers won't produce enough seed for their own use. Seedsmen don't know where they're going to find enough to fill out. And those who have to buy their requirements grin a little hard when they declare it "just a little cheaper than gold dust."

Heavy legume crops are absolutely necessary to maintain Illinois soil fertility, according to the experience of the University of Illinois. The assertion is confirmed by thousands of dirt farmers.

Very few acres have been combined this year. Alvin H. Saunderson, Rural Route 2, Chapin, is shown as he scoops out a handful of the golden seeds from the tank of his Allis-Chalmers combine. And he's mighty happy he'll have enough for his own use. He figured his 37 acres would "clean out" at about three pecks per acre.

Predict Record Prices

Many farmers feel that prime red clover seed will bring as much as $50 a bushel, better than 80 cents a pound, next spring. It commanded up to $35 this spring, with the bulk going at the $30 mark.

The seed heads were not densely populated this year. Only a few farmers have reported yields of more than a bushel per acre.

Grasshoppers played havoc with many fields, chewing up the growing plants and reducing the number of blossoms.

Mr. Saunderson operates a 500 acre farm on Route 104 between Jacksonville and Chapin.

The Zion's Neck Pinchle Club met Friday, Sept. 10, with Mrs. Ralph Young. Six members were present. Mrs. Everett Hester was awarded high score, with low score and floating prize going to Mrs. Eva Young.

Next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Orval Evans, Sept. 24. There will be a potluck supper for members and their families.

Mrs. Ona Pope, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Ritchie, who have been at the former's home here the past week preparing to move her household goods to their new home in Decatur, returned there Tuesday. The furniture was moved to Decatur by Murrell Smith in his truck. He was assisted by Mr. Ritchie and Roy McEvers.

Several from this community happened to be listening to their radios Sunday evening, when Mrs. W. E. Sandler of Mart, Tex., a former Glasgow resident and native, was called on the telephone by a radio quiz program. The question asked her was promptly answered, and as a result she received a very nice wrist watch.

Mrs. Chandler was formerly Miss Freda Smith.

The newspapers carry stories nearly every day about the bumper crops and wheat crops the farmers of America brought to market. And about the gigantic harvests of soybeans and corn to be delivered this year.

But there hasn't been much information printed about what agriculture specialists term, "a genuine emergency." They're talking about the scarcity of legume seed. This scarcity has been brought on by a number of reasons, they say, and the prospects get worse instead of better.

Heavy legume crops are absolutely necessary to maintain Illinois soil fertility, according to the experience of the University of Illinois. The assertion is confirmed by thousands of dirt farmers.

Very few acres have been combined this year. Alvin H. Saunderson, Rural Route 2, Chapin, is shown as he scoops out a handful of the golden seeds from the tank of his Allis-Chalmers combine. And he's mighty happy he'll have enough for his own use. He figured his 37 acres would "clean out" at about three pecks per acre.

Predict Record Prices

Many farmers feel that prime red clover seed will bring as much as $50 a bushel, better than 80 cents a pound, next spring. It commanded up to $35 this spring, with the bulk going at the $30 mark.

The seed heads were not densely populated this year. Only a few farmers have reported yields of more than a bushel per acre.

Grasshoppers played havoc with many fields, chewing up the growing plants and reducing the number of blossoms.

Mr. Saunderson operates a 500 acre farm on Route 104 between Jacksonville and Chapin.
